Goals

Here, you should describe what the goals of the thesis are:

- Which goal do you want to achieve? What is your minimal goal and what is your optimal outcome? How does this goal relate to the challenges and problems that you listed in the motivation section?

- What do you want to evaluate?

- Which tools you intend to base your work on?

After reading this section, a reader should be able to tell what exactly you are going to do and how you will do it.
